What ages can attend camp?

Each week there will be two camp sessions. The Galactic Explorers are for those campers entering 3rd-5th grades. The Galactic Challengers are those campers who are entering 6th-8th grades.

What will my child learn in camp?

The summer camp program is STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math) based.

Galactic Explorers (grades 3-5) will be exploring all things that they would need for a mission to outer space. Explorers will design a mission patch, build a planetary rover and a lunar lander, and design a space suit. Each day cadets will explore a floor of the Space Museum and learn about space history.

Galactic Challengers (grades 6-8) will focus on teamwork, critical thinking, and problem solving to help them survive on other planets. Challengers will learn about growing plants in hostile environments, build a space elevator to get them back and forth to the planet, learn about aerodynamics, and build a communications satellite.

Will there be a field trip?

Yes, all campers will participate in a fieldtrip to Holloman Air Force Base to visit and learn about the High Speed Test Track. Transportation and lunch will be provided.

Can parents join the fieldtrip?

Yes, a limited number of parents will be able to board the coaches for an additional fee. No private vehicles will be allowed for base security reasons. Parents will need to provide information for HAFB security, including but not limited to a valid state driver's license, proof of citizenship if required, and potentially other information.

What should my camper wear?

Required dress for camp activities will include a camp t-shirt (provided), nametag (provided), shorts or long pants, and sneakers (no open toed shoes or flip flops). Additional t-shirts can be purchased at the museum gift shop.

Will meals be provided?

Lunch will be provided for all campers through a partnership with the Alamogordo Public Schools. At registration, campers can opt out of the lunch program due to food allergies and/or dietary restrictions. Lunch will be provided on the field trip day. If you opted your camper out of the lunch program, you will need to provide a packed lunch for that day.

Can my camper bring a cell phone or game device?

We ask that parents do not send cell phones or other electronic devices to camp. Cell phones, games, and other devices that are visible during camp activities or times other than appropriate call times may be confiscated until the end of the day. Anyone bringing a device must understand this policy and keep the item in a backpack locked in the Education Department.

Are there medical facilities nearby?

Christus Health Medical Center is within one mile of the Museum.
